CAME UNDER CONTRACT

Manager Aaron Mosley, of the Scranton Laco Company, Arrested.

THE CHARGE MADE AGAINST HIM

It is said that he brought Unskilled Laborers to This City Under Contract—Hearing Before United States Commissioner Colburn Yesterday Afternoon—Mosley Enters Bail to Appear at District Court.

Aaron Mosley, general manager of the Scranton Laco Curtain Manufacturing company, was yesterday afternoon given a hearing before United States Commissioner A. J. Colburn, on the charge of having violated the provisions of the contract labor law by transporting help from England. He was held for appearance before the United States district court, J. M. Kemmerer becoming his bondsman in the sum of $1,000.

The arrest was made by United States Marshal John W. Walker and Detective Anthony Scanlon, and the case for the government was conducted at the hearing by United States District Attorney Harry A. Hill, district attorney for the western district of Pennsylvania, assisted by Attorney George M. Watson of this city. Judge Alfred Hand was the defendant's counsel.

The history of the case dates back to over a year ago, when Harry Warren, who came over from England to work for the laco company, entered contract against Mosley, claiming that he was violating the contract labor law. A warrant was issued but never served, investigation convincing the authorities there was nothing in the case. A short time ago, however, Edgar Gould who came over in 1892 returned to England and made complaint to the British consul, who referred the matter to the proper authorities at Washington, through whose efforts the arrest of Mr. Mosley was finally brought about.

EVIDENCE IN THE CASE

The first witness sworn at the preliminary examination yesterday afternoon was Henry Hudson, who came from England last May. He testified to the agreement he had made with a Mr. Ashurst to come here and work in the lace factory. His passage was paid for himself and family and he had agreed to the deduction of $1 a week from his wages until the same should be paid back. His task was looking after the boys who place the bobbin frames in the carriages. It is not a difficult task, he said, as any one could learn to do in a short time. He is not a skilled workman, but his wife's services are of that character.

Other witnesses were Harry Warren, Alfred Hunt, Thomas Kink, Alfred Beach, Sidney Smith, Allen Knapp, Frederick Merriman, Roland Kirsaw, John Shawwood, Mrs. Sidney Smith and Mrs. Edgar Gould, all of whom, with the exception of Shawwood, who has charge of the books of the company, came over from England to work at the lace factory. There was but little variation in their testimony, all being skilled laborers and their importation therefore justifiable under the law.

Mrs. Gould, however, testified that her husband is a baker by trade, while she is a lace maker. He had been given employment as a laborer in the lace factory, but is now in England. It was he who complained to the British consul.

WITNESSES SKILLED EMPLOYERS

The various witnesses all testified to the making of contracts in England for employment here. Some made arrangements with Ashurst, some with Mr. Mosley and some with Mr. Wood, but as all were skilled laborers except Henry Hudson and Edgar Gould, the government's case hinged on these two who seemed to have come along as company for their wives.

Mr. Mosley was also sworn. He testified that he was compelled to go to England for skilled labor and had acted with discretion and care, doing nothing until assured by the authorities that he was acting within the provisions of the law. He gave evidence concerning the number of girls taken to the lace factory in this country at the time the industry was started in this city and did not seem to be at all worried over the prosecution.

District Attorney Hill admitted in his argument that Mr. Mosley had the right to bring skilled workmen here, and stated that the employment of Henry Hudson and Edgar Gould was the only way in which to hang the government's case. He also hoped to prove that Ashurst was the agent of Mr. Mosley and thought the defendant should be held. Commissioner Colburn thereupon fixed the sum of $1,000 as Mr. Mosley's bail, and held the witnesses on their own recognizances in the sum of $500 for their appearance at the United States district court.

BOARD OF TRADE ADVOCATES IT

Possible Location in Scranton of New Manufacturing Industries—Valuable Figures Showing Cost of Steam Production from Culin—Board Will Have More Commodious Quarters. Other Interesting Business Transactions Last Evening.

There was a good sized attendance at last night's meeting of the board of trade when several subjects of importance were discussed and acted upon. The prominent questions considered were the location in Scranton of several new manufacturing industries, the cost of steam production from culin, and the procuring of additional board of trade rooms.

The report of the public safety committee, presented by R. W. Luce, contained the following:

Your committee has been holding under advisement the subject of proper fenders to be placed on the street cars of the city, we therefore, respectfully advise that the Scranton Traction company be requested to place on the front of their cars a fender similar to the ones used in Buffalo and Boston, or something better if it can be done. We find it more necessary now than ever before, as the number of cars will soon be increased from 54 to 100 per hour on Lackawanna avenue, between Franklin and Adams avenues. The committee would further advise that the people living on the lines of the several street railways be cautioned not to allow small children to play on the tracks, and that the public appreciate rapid transit, yet the company cannot give it without the assistance of the people. Ex-Mayor John H. Folio and Vice-president of the board, a sub-committee to meet General Manager Archer of the Scranton Traction company, to see if a certain rate of speed, consistent with safety, cannot be determined.

MR. FOSTER'S RESOLUTION.

The report was adopted, and a resolution, presented by R. J. Foster, to request the legislation committee to recommend some means by which the "interference of corporations in city business may hereafter be prevented, frustrated or reduced to a minimum," was lost.

In accordance with a resolution passed at the previous meeting, Secretary Archer presented a report on the cost of steam production, which was in substance as follows:

Improved plants with 5,500 horse power for six months used an average of 194 tons of culin per day; unimproved plants with 7,200 horse power for six months used an average of 225 tons of culin per day. Taking 8 cents per ton for culin delivered at boilers, with improved plants the cost would be $10.00 per ton, with unimproved plants, the cost would be $12.00 per ton per horse power per day.

The report of the manufacturers' committee, presented by Luther Kell, showed that these findings had been held during the month past, at which was considered the proposition of the Honesdale Iron works to locate in Scranton. Thomas Moore, Mr. Dacker, of the Scranton Iron works, and Mr. Spruks visited Honesdale in conjunction with the committee and would be in a position to make a report showing the value of the plant and the business to be greater, even, than represented. The committee recommended that everything be done to induce the Honesdale firm to locate here.

S. Edgar Trent, of Wilkes-Barre, wishes to locate in Scranton a wall paper manufacturing plant, for which $10,000 cash capital will be required to start. This matter had been referred to J. S. McAnulty for investigation, but he has not submitted his report.

The manufacturers committee also recommended attention to the selling blind patent of Mr. Wilson, who was present with a model. It was announced that large profits could be obtained from its manufacture.

MORE ROOM NEEDED

John M. Kemmerer presented the report of the committee appointed to consider the question of additional board of trade rooms. The committee recommended that the space next the present apartments be rented and a connecting doorway made. The point was taken by R. J. Foster that the additional $200 necessary for rental might better be applied to the sinking fund, but after considerable discussion it was ordered that the same room committee be empowered to rent the proposed space in connection with President May's concurrence and upon further investigation.

M. Troutlett, R. Moses, R. M. Scranton, George Phillips, R. M. Barker, N. Little and Samuel McEachen were elected new members. The following resignations were accepted: C. W. Freeman, George Jessup, E. P. Kingsbury, P. H. Gilligan and M. J. Kelly.

Since the board refused to submit its statistics to the Scranton Republican for use in a contemplated special industrial edition, the publication committee has been requested by Mr. Scranton's representatives to submit the figures. That committee in its report said that the board as a body refused to endorse the enterprise or any other which is not under its officers' supervision. It recommended that the secretary give out only such information as would be consistent with due privacy and to only answer necessary questions.

An important matter, but one which created much amusement, was that brought up by Alderman Dickson relative to the unrestrained wanderings of cattle about the lawns of private properties. The mayor will be asked by letter from the board to have the ordinance enforced.

Numerous other minor matters were also acted upon and an adjournment made after one of the busiest meetings of the board this season.

Removal to Washington Avenue. Miss Sarah McLane has removed her parlors from 34 Spruce street to a more desirable location, 211 Washington avenue, where she will have larger and more commodious quarters. Miss McLane is now doing business at her new place, and will be pleased to have all her old friends to call and see her.

There was a large attendance in court yesterday morning when Judges Archibald and Edwards went on the bench to announce the names of those to whom they had decided to grant license for the year 1894. It was a very much interested audience, nearly every one present having a personal reason for appreciating the action of the court.

ASKED FOR A REHEARING.

Attorney R. H. Holgate asked for a rehearing in the case of D. F. Kearney of the Thirtieth ward, but the court refused it. In deciding in favor of a rehearing on Saturday in the case of Gilbey Bros. of the First ward on the application of Attorney E. P. Hoban. The place for which they asked for a license is an old house but there is a dispute about the lease and the license was granted to Mark J. Moran. County Treasurer Powell received $3,050 from liquor licenses taken yesterday. The first person to take out a license was Charles H. Gaul, of Lackawanna township. Nothing but cash or certified checks will be received in payment for licenses. They must be taken out before April 1.

LEYDON WANTED TOO MUCH.

He Rejected the Offer of the Scranton Traction Company.

Michael Leydon, of Alaska, whose two children were slightly injured on Saturday by being struck by an electric car, met the attorney of the Scranton Traction company, Horace E. Hand, yesterday by request of the company's agent. The conference was arranged that Mr. Leydon might be recompensed for whatever injury his children sustained.

This action was taken to preserve the amicable relations between the company and the public generally rather than from any belief that the company's employees were responsible for the accident.

Mr. Leydon was told that the company would settle all doctor bills and pay him $50. He declined the offer. At first he wanted $400, but later agreed to compromise on $175, but the compromise was not acceptable to the company.

Dr. Manley, who treated the children, stated that their condition is so favorable that he did not consider it necessary to prescribe for them.

FIRE AT THE GLOBE HOTEL.

Stock and Fixtures Destroyed and Building Damaged.

The Globe hotel at 227 Wyoming avenue caught fire at half-past three o'clock yesterday morning and was badly damaged, most of the stock and fixtures being destroyed, although the efforts of the firemen prevented the flames from extending farther than the barroom. The fire is supposed to have been caused by a gas jet in the cellar. The hotel has been conducted by D. A. Dougherty and J. F. Fahy. The firm had $240,000 insurance in the agency of C. G. Boland, $1,200 in the Albany and $1,200 in the British American.

Mrs. Richard McHugh is the owner of the building, but her loss, which is estimated at about $1,000, is fully covered by insurance.

DELUGE OF APPLICATIONS.

Radical Let Loose at Juvenile Convention of All-Nations.

By actual count, more than a hundred boys of all nationalities, ages, pay-signs and colors yesterday appeared at the Arcade office of the Frothingham dealer in response to this advertisement, which appeared in yesterday's morning's TRIBUNE.

BOYS WANTED—TEN GOOD LOOKING boys about 14 years of age wanted to act as models at the new Frothingham store. Apply at theater this morning at 11 o'clock.

By the uninitiated, or those who did not know what a THEATRE advertisement could do, it was inferred that he had been let loose or that a juvenile convention of all-nations was in progress. There were boys good and bad looking, bow-legged and pigeon-toed, freckle-faced and sallow-skinned, slender and stout, tall and short; some had white shirts and collars, others had no shirts; one beetle-browed rascal, who could make his appreciation known through billingsgate dialect, came down from the (rough-and-ready district and was at the door of the Arcade before the janitor had begun his morning sweep.

However, from among the throng Manager Blackwood had no difficulty in selecting a corps of bright, neat and efficient young men who will bestow polite attention upon the new theater's patrons.

BURKE AS GENERAL GAUGER.

Revenue Collector Grant Herring Will Appoint Him Within a Few Days.

Other Fortunate Persons.

Revenue Collector Grant Herring is seeking a diplomat, as well as a firm believer in the principle that "to the victors belong the spoils."

In the struggle for deputy revenue collector of this district there was much energetic wire pulling for William Craig, W. J. Burke and one or two other aspirants. For a time hope were apparently even in the race between Mr. Craig and Mr. Burke, and when the former was appointed Mr. Burke and his friends were naturally not the first to throw up their hats and cry for very joy.

In fact they were somewhat sore, and Mr. Herring who is a thoroughly practical young man, did not blame them much.

To prove that he has the greatest regard for Mr. Burke he has determined to give him the next best position at his disposal, that of general gauger, with headquarters in this city. In conversation with a TRIBUNE reporter yesterday, Mr. Herring said he would make the appointment in a few days. Mr. Burke will succeed Henry Somers, the present efficient gauger.

Other appointments soon to follow will be that of Joseph Haberton to be stamp agent for Clinton county and district in place of John B. Myers, and Casper W. Brooks to act as storekeeper and gauger at Pleasant distillery, Centre county.

Late appointments are as follows: Sylvanus Weaver, of Northampton county, deputy collector for that county, to succeed Louis Snyder, and J. S. McGee, storekeeper and gauger at Keira's distillery, Union county.

Scranton's Business Interests.

The TRIBUNE will soon publish a carefully compiled and classified list of the leading business, banking, manufacturing and professional interests of Scranton and vicinity. The edition will be bound in book form, beautifully illustrated with photographs of our public buildings, business blocks, streets, etc., together with portraits of leading citizens. No similar work has ever given an equal representation of Scranton's many industries. It will be an invaluable exposition of our business resources. Sent to persons outside the city, copies of the handbook will be sent with new orders and back an unequalled advertisement of the city. The circulation is on a plan that cannot fail of good results to those concerned as well as the city at large. Representatives of THE TRIBUNE will call upon those whose names are desired in this edition and explain its nature more fully.

The drawing of names of their residences in this edition will please have notice at the office.
